

Elisa Guardiani

KEY-WORDS:
 PROJECT MANAGEMENT –
 TRANSVERSAL SKILLS – LEADERSHIP

PROFILE

I am a first-year PhD student in Agro – Food System, Economics and Law sector, and a professional with more than 10 years experience in Project Management, Supply Chain Management and Continuous Improvement. I am PMP certified and Six Sigma Black Belt.

AFFILIATION

Agro-Food System at Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore – Piacenza Campus

LANGUAGES

Mother language

Level C1

Level B2

HOW TO REACH ME

Email Address:
 elisa.guardiani01@unicatt.it

Reference Contact

Prof. P. Ajmone Marsan

PROJECT TITLE

The Evolving Role of Project Manager Based on Social Responsibility and Transversal Skills

Steps of the research

- Evaluate market and literature to assess current trends and understand the evolving demands for project managers' skills.
- Explore Responsible Leadership in project management, including how ethical decision-making, CSR, and sustainability influence project success.
- Identify key transversal skills to determine which are most critical for project managers in contemporary settings.
- Develop a comprehensive competency framework that integrates both hard and soft skills, tailored to the needs of modern project managers.

Main Results

This research would like to contribute to a deeper understanding of critical competencies for project managers in the current economic landscape, offering valuable insights for both practitioners and scholars.

Research Contribution

By developing a robust competency framework and highlighting the significance of responsible leadership, this study aims to equip project managers with the tools they need to navigate the complexities of modern projects and drive sustainable, ethical, and successful outcomes.

Why should you care?

Projects have a significant impact on the development of economies, and ethical decisions are strongly tied to this impact. Furthermore, more individuals are being tasked with managing projects across various sectors, necessitating a broader skill set of competencies.